SUNNY SQUIBBLES

Anyway the young people are responding to the appeal to back up home enterprises, by giving the ice cream joints and soda fountains a wonderful support.

The people who go without coal this winter owing to miners' strikes have not so far started any movement to improve the condition of the miners.

The desire of young men to display their vocal gifts, appears to have somewhat declined since prohibition came in.

There is no reason why producers should reduce their prices if they don't want to. They have a perfect right to hold their stock and pay interest and storage on it as long as they desire.

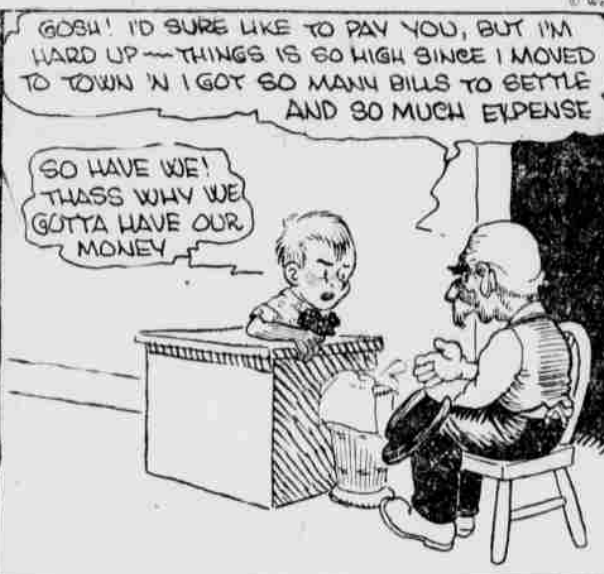

Continued high price of bread makes some folks in Northeastern Vermont feel very crusty.

PRESS COMMENT

(Barre Times)

When one is comparing the $38,000 spent in the Hartness campaign with previous political expenditures in Vermont, out of fairness it ought to be taken into consideration that costs have gone up tremendously in the past few years. Most of the Hartness money went for publicity. The paper on which the last Drive was published cost 15 1/2 cents a pound and could have been purchased before the war for less than two cents a pound.

MICKIE, THE PRINTER'S DEVIL

Child Welfare Meeting of Woman's Club

The October meeting of the St. Johnsbury Woman's Club will be held in Athenaeum Hall on Monday, Oct. 4, at three o'clock. The meeting will be in charge of the Public Health and Child Welfare Committee, Mrs. W. H. Heywood, Chairman.

H. W. Slocum of Burlington, Secretary of the Vermont Tuberculosis Association, will speak on "The Tyrant Ill-Health and his Helpers." Miss L. Josephine Webster, secretary of the Vermont Children's Aid Society, Inc., who has her office at Burlington, will also speak; her subject will be "Some of Vermont's Stumbling Children—what can we do to help them?"

It is hoped that there will be a full attendance at this meeting not only of club members but of invited guests who are interested in these subjects.

September

Rainfall Record

Northeastern Vermont was deluged with rain Thursday night in one of the worst downpours and gales of the season. The rain gauge at the Fairbanks Museum showed a rainfall Thursday of 2.65 inches. The total rainfall for the month of September was 7.38 inches, the largest but one of any September rainfall on record here. In September 1907 the rain during the month amounted to 8.11 inches, coming on nineteen different days with two days of over an inch of rain.

Willing Workers Have Afternoon Program

The club in the Fifth A Grade at the Summer street schools called the Willing Workers held their first meeting of the season Thursday afternoon in Miss Anderson's room when the following program was rendered:

Piano solo, Beulah Fletcher; piano duet, Dorothy Murphy and Caroline Howard; story, Leo McCaffery; singing of "America."

The program was followed by light refreshments and a general social time.

Half-Holiday for Boston Braves Game

Out of town visitors should plan to make a real celebration and remain for the reception and dance in the evening.

Vitty and Hoernle will be the battery for the Fairbanks team. The young twirler who puzzled Sherbrooke, the Quebec colored Giants and the other crack teams of the season, may give the Boston Braves something to worry about. Manager Hoernle will have a strong substitute pitcher ready to help out should Vitty not be in his usual champion form. "Jack" Davidson will hold down third base and Sullivan will play in left field. The St. Johnsbury fans can rest assured that the home boys will have a team that will make the Boston Braves hustle some to win.

Orders for reservation of seats began to pour in today from parties in Newport, Barton, Orleans, Littleton, Lancaster, Hardwick, Woodsville and other towns and cities. The Braves play in Berlin, N. H., after their St. Johnsbury game and will not be seen in a game in this section of the country after the St. Johnsbury game.

State Sunday School Sessions Opened Here

(Continued from page 1) county executive committee on Saturday a discussion of the county and district conventions, how to hold them, the advertising of them, etc., and on Sunday, would take up the program of the work that should be done by the Children's Division and the program of work each group expects to carry out.

Prof. Locker in opening declared the unit of the Sunday School work was the county, just the same as the dollar was the monetary unit. The county is the unit and all of the individual schools are a portion of this unit. The county executive committee, he said, is composed of all of the county officers. "Practically all states recognize the county executive committee as the authority," Prof. Locker added. "They never should meet less than twice a year and quarterly would be better, for the transaction of such business as comes before them. The county secretary, by authority of the president, should call the meeting and all who come from a distance should be reimbursed for their railroad fare. However, if a delegate is fortunate enough to own an automobile, he should be willing to pay for the small amount of gasoline he uses. The county association's treasurer should pay these bills on the O. K. of the president. The next item for the executive committee to consider is the arrangement of a program, because without a program you will get nowhere. The president should be responsible for the building of the program and it should be sent, with the letter announcing the meeting, to every member of the executive committee."

Speaking about the treasurer's duties, he said that too many such officers sit around and wait for the money to roll into them instead of getting out after it like they should. Too many treasurers get discouraged after writing one or two letters to the delinquent ones, he added, and this should be overcome. "So do the secretaries," he added, "who go after reports from the various officers. You should vote to allow your county heads money for postage and stationery so that they may write as many letters as they care to."

"At one of these executive meetings you should map out your work for the coming year," Prof. Locker said. "The average person will accomplish 100 per cent more work if he has his work planned ahead. The four division heads should report what they are going to do during the coming year."

Prof. Locker said the executive county secretary was of the most important positions on the executive committee. A well equipped county secretary is invaluable. Prof. Locker exhibited samples of sheets and blanks on which various officers could keep their reports and minutes of meetings. The county secretary, he said, should report to the state officer.

In closing, Prof. Locker said that no organization in the church should be considered a source of revenue for that church. He said he believed socialists, etc., if held, should be free. He believed the day was coming when socialists and bazaarers for making money would be a curiosity.

Climate and Longevity.

The general death rate is found to increase with rising temperature and to diminish with a falling thermometer. These conclusions are a result of a study of about 400,000 deaths in New York in connection with the weather on the day of the death. The peculiarities seem to apply to all seasons. Variety, as in English or Canadian weather, is healthful and stimulating, and it is believed that some variability is as essential as proper humidity.
